

IRLA QUIZ SCOREBOARD 2016

Yet again the anonymity of team names saves a number of people from shame, but we can say that the winners were “KPMG” who were each given a very classy bottle of wine. The competition was tough and there were no marks for good writing; the break couldn’t have come round soon enough for some!

Many thanks again to Peter Bates from Aureus and to his helpers Natalie Lewis and Mark Jones, and of course Mark Everiss, IRLA Director for his well thought out – and really annoying – Christmas cracker joke round.
