IRLA LINK & LEARN SESSION

The Legacy Market: Past, Present & Future

24 JANUARY 2018 / LONDON

SUMMARY

The legacy market has evolved over decades to become its own distinct sector and vibrant business community.

By the end of the session, delegates will:

- understand how the legacy market has got to where it is today with its multi-million dollar transactions, complicated lawsuits and specific regulation
- learn what the future has in store for legacy with new and complex risks that the market may have to grapple with for years to come

This Link & Learn session will provide an insight into these issues and more, and give you the opportunity to interact with other young professionals in the legacy market.

Link & Learn sessions provide a starting point to the Accredited Academy programme of training. The format of this event will be a knowledge sharing session performed by fellow young professionals with an experienced individual from the industry leading the session.

COST: Free for IRLA YPG members / £25+VAT for non-members (registration will be confirmed on receipt of payment). Maximum number of delegates is 3 per company. Cancellations can be agreed up to 48 hours prior to the event only; please refer to the IRLA Cancellation & Refund policy overleaf.
