

IRLA Web page – Legal Services

Keoghs has one of the largest dedicated legacy teams in the country.

Our specialist abuse and disease teams provide both traditional legacy services and market-leading strategic support. We are involved in many of the biggest industry cases and initiatives and the disease team is the only legal practice to act for the five largest legacy insurers.

We have over 20 years' experience of defending abuse and failure to protect/remove claims, dealing with strategic, high-profile and highly sensitive matters.

Our experts help clients to identify policy coverage, regulatory and compliance issues at the outset. We advise insurers and reinsurers whether claims fall to be covered under the policy; and, if so, the extent of that cover.

Our focus is on acting decisively for leading insurers, self-insureds, brokers and suppliers, corporates and public sector organisations. We employ over 1,700 people based in 10 offices nationally. We were founded on handling liability claims and our undiluted dedication to the insurance and re-insurance market ensures that our depth of expertise is unrivalled. Our experts handle general insurance claims of all types, from the lowest value disputes to the largest catastrophic losses.
