

IRLA AGM 2020 NOMINATIONS

New

Kevin Gill

Partner, Ernst & Young LLP 2008 employed to lead its Insurance Restructuring and Run-off team and since 2016 also head of EYs corporate entity rationalisation business.

I first became involved in run-off in 1992, managing the run-off of insolvent underwriters and brokers. Since then I have been involved in a broad spectrum of run-off activity including: buy-side and sell-side transaction advice and due diligence, Part VII Transfers, Schemes of Arrangement, exit strategies and operating model design. I am currently a Director of Municipal Mutual Insurance Ltd, which is in run-off and in a Scheme of Arrangement, carrying out the functions of Chief Risk Officer and Head of Internal Audit. I am a Chartered Accountant and a Chartered Insurance Practitioner and a member of the Worshipful Company of Insurers. If elected to the IRLA board I would like to support the association in continuing the great work it has done as an industry body since its inception. I would particularly like to take an active role in promoting diversity and inclusion in our industry and the importance of mental well-being. I would also like to support the association in helping the industry remain attractive to talent, innovation and capital and ensuring the industry's evolution to remaining relevant to its stakeholders.

Re-Election

Paul Corver

Group Head of M&A, Randall & Quilter Investment Holdings Ltd.

I have been an active participant in the run-off sector for over 30 years spending time working on solvent and insolvent portfolios and in more recent years heading up the M&A Division for R&Q which identifies, analyses and assumes companies and portfolios of legacy liabilities.

The sector continues to be exciting and vibrant with many opportunities to explore and develop, especially as proactive legacy management and the focus on capital efficiency has become more embedded in the insurance life cycle.

I was Chairman of IRLA from 2009 to 2019 and am now enjoying supporting the new Chairman and continuing to work with some great people on the IRLA board and committees. I am frequently asked to speak at conferences and be interviewed by industry press for my views on the market and I always look for opportunities to promote IRLA and the sector. I have also led a number of working parties addressing consultation papers or proposals from government and regulators. I would like to be considered for re-election at the 2020 AGM.

Re-Election

Jenny Fair

Managing Director of Fidelis Consultants Limited – an organisation that provides insurance tracing (EL & PL), coverholder & EL audits, and technical insurance claims translation services.

I have worked in the insurance and reinsurance market for over 42 years, during which time I have developed an extensive experience of all aspects of the business through work on major international run-offs, securing and managing tender proposals, work as a Forensic Tracing Consultant, Coverholder Auditor and technical French and Spanish translation. I believe I have become a well-known and respected figure in the London Market, across Europe and worldwide. As a regular contributor to the associations' work, my marketing and business development skills together with my wide network of contacts has helped me develop a connection with IRLA's UK and overseas members. I am very passionate about the association, having been on the inaugural board in 1999 and held Board and Deputy Chairman roles over many years. I hope to be re-elected as I would love to continue to drive IRLA's growth and success.

Re-Election

Mark Hallam

Global Head of In-force Management, Swiss Re Europe S.A., UK branch.

I have 33 years of experience in the re/insurance industry of which 25 years have been focussed on legacy. Initially I was underwriting in Lloyd's followed by 10 years at Equitas. I have been with Swiss Re for the past 13 years as the Managing Director responsible for the proactive management of P&C liabilities including legacy liability management, all Outwards Reinsurance Management (new and legacy), Transaction (Retrospective, Prospective and ILS) Due Diligence and Post Close Management, P&C Claims Run-off and Client Reviews.

I have been on the board of directors of IRLA since October 2015 having previously been active on the Education and Events Committees. I now have responsibility for the EMEA development. Recently I also supported the introduction of IRLAAsia in conjunction with the Singapore Insurance Institute. We are also building our Continental Europe membership and activity.

I am passionate about IRLA and am proud of what it has achieved. I see continued opportunity for the association to bring the legacy community together offering extensive education and networking. The line between run-off, legacy and active business continues to move as live companies are taking a more proactive approach to the management of their in-force business. My experience and market contacts enable me to significantly contribute to the IRLA board both from a legacy and active market perspective and I hope to be re-elected.
