

Vaccine development: proteins, protections and pandemics

We are delighted to invite you to join us and our experts for an insightful discussion on vaccine development against the backdrop of a pandemic, and an update on the introduction and risks of human challenge trials.

The webinar is aimed at insurance claims handlers, underwriters, start-ups, medical device, med-tech and pharmaceutical companies and in-house counsel, academics and disrupters in the industry.

We are pleased to be joined by two pre-eminent industry experts. If you wish to submit any questions for our experts in advance, please let our events team know.

We hope you are able to join us for this webinar.

Speakers

Professor Ian Kimber, Emeritus Professor of Toxicology in the Faculty of Biology, Medicine and Health, University of Manchester

Professor Kimber will describe the basic features of the human immune system and the ways in which it is deployed to provide host resistance to viral infection.

Professor Michael Scott Kinch, Associate Vice Chancellor, Professor of Biochemistry and Molecular Biophysics, and Director of the Centers for Research Innovation in Biotechnology and Drug Discovery, Washington University

Professor Kinch will cover the history and development of vaccines including the risks to manufacturers, clinicians and patients posed by these developments in the context of a pandemic.

Caroline Speight, Senior Associate, Kennedys

TUE
26
JAN 2021
15:00 - 16:30
RSVP

Follow us:

@kennedyslaw
#KennedysEvent

Kennedys

Caroline Speight is also a qualified adult, paediatric and community health nurse.

She will discuss the product liability implications of vaccines and vaccine development, and address the legal and ethical implications of human challenge trials.

---

Timings

15:00 Webinar begins
16:30 Webinar ends

---

Key contacts

Samantha Silver

Download vCard

Caroline Speight

Download vCard

---

Privacy | Legal Notices

Kennedys is a trading name of Kennedys Law LLP. Kennedys Law LLP is a limited liability partnership registered in England and Wales (with registered number OC353214) authorised and regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority.

For a full list of Kennedys globally registered legal entities, visit www.kennedyslaw.com/regulatory

© 2021 Kennedys Law LLP, all rights reserved