

Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) comes to an Association near you!

IRLA, as a trade body, likes to keep up with market and other relevant issues and has always taken its Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) very seriously, and this along with pro bono work from the directors and committee members is an important commitment to sharing knowledge and connections across all of our membership firms.

Our charitable support tends toward UK based and operated charities where our fund raising comes in direct response to a request for support. As a not-for-profit mutual the IRLA board does not feel that it can commit members funds to any long-term relationship and therefore we limit our involvement to certain fundraising events.

IRLA also offers support and training on a pro bono basis to a range of students and other not-for-profit organisations, as well as government employees. This may include:

- Working with students to research their dissertations and supporting their search for funding
- Enabling students to have access to specialist re/insurance related training, books and research at no cost
- Acting as mentors and referees as well as providing 'soft skills' experience
- Arranging day release and placement work for legal students
