

Engage
Legal insight and analysis

SEC proposes reforms to enhance private fund transparency

16 February 2022 | News

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) proposed new rules promulgated under the U.S. Advisers Act of 1940 (the Advisers Act) on Wednesday, 9 February 2022. Pointing to over US$18 trillion in assets under private fund management and the growth of private funds in recent years, the SEC is introducing five related reforms, which it states are designed to protect private fund investors and to increase transparency, competition, and efficiency in the private fund market.

Read more >>

Relevant to: Fund Formation, Fund Raising, Restructuring and Dissolution, Investments, Financing, Portfolio Company Advice and Exits, Private Capital Regulatory, Compliance and Disputes, Infrastructure and Energy Funds, Pension Funds, Private Credit/Debt Funds, Private Equity Funds, Real Estate Investment Vehicles and Funds, Sovereign Wealth Funds, Venture Capital Funds, Fund Formation, Corporate Governance, Corporate / Company Law, Securities and Public Company Advisory, Secondaries

If you need assistance, please contact Engage Support.

This publication is issued by Hogan Lovells Solutions Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Hogan Lovells International LLP. Hogan Lovells Solutions Limited is not a law firm. The articles published here do not constitute legal advice, and this publication is not intended to create, and receipt of it does not constitute, a lawyer-client relationship. For further details of Hogan Lovells Solutions Limited and the international legal practice that comprises Hogan Lovells International LLP, Hogan Lovells US LLP and their affiliated businesses, please see our Legal Notices page.

All rights reserved. Attorney advertising.